SILKS

Three reasons why these should interest you. They are: STYLISH, SERVICE-ABLE AND CHEAP.

PLAID TAFFETAS Twenty-one choice patterns and colors,

89c a yard.

FOULARDS

and plain, $1.a yard.

PEAU DE SOIE

The fashionable Black Silk-qualities we can recommend, at $1 and $1.25 a yard. Others as low as 65c, as high as $2.50,

BLACK BROCADES

The large, graceful patterns so much in vogue. The price at least 25c less than you'd expect it, $1 a yard.

L. S. AYRES & CO Agents for Butterick's Patterns.

Baldwin Pianos

Constructed on a patented system, which insures

Quantity, Quality, and Beauty of Tone,

With durability and capacity for standing in tune, not equaled in any other For prices and terms, wholesale or retail, write to or call on

D. H. BALDWIN & CO., 95, 97 & 99 North Pennsylvania St.

A CHRISTMAS

Give something that will make the house beautiful, the housewife happy, and serve a useful purpose the whole year through.

Give a Rug $1.98 $2.50 $3.00

Will buy a beautiful Rug. Then we have Rugs all the way up in price as high as you want to go. You are welcome to see, whether you buy or not.

Albert Gall. 17-19 WEST WASHINGTON ST.

ART EMPORIUM, Telephone 500.

Rich in Art-Cheap in Price.

In addition to the higher-priced etchings, engravings, water colors, etc., we have many that are small and of great intrinsic worth and beauty that sell at an extremely

COPLEY'S PRINTS, STATUARY, ETC.

The H. LIEBER COMPANY, 33 South Meridian St.

...................... Furniture Novelties For Christmas

Never before has there been such an array of suitable gifts to make "Home Beautiful," as are now displayed at

BADGER'S Here is one of a thousand-a beauiful China Closet, with mirror back.

bent glass front, for . . . $19.00

BADGER

FURNITURE CO. 75 and 77 East Washington Street, 20 and 24 Virginia Avenue.

"Go to an Art Store for Pictures." We Would Like You

There is more inside, and don't forget that we sell FRAMES. WATER COLORS, ENGRAVINGS. PHOTOGRAVURES.

To see our window display of Statuary

ETCHINGS.

Ward's Art Store North Pennsylvania St., Opp. Postoffice. - GOOD GOODS

Give . a . Pair . of Tucker's Gloves. Suitable Presents

Lelia Ball Returns Home. Lelia Bali, daughter of Dr. C. T. Ball, of 916 North Illinois street, is at home. She was found by her father with relatives in Chicago, after having mysteriously disap-Office Desks of all styles .- Wm. L. Elder, I

BURDETTE DRAWS WELL

Y. M. C. A. LECTURE COURSE SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS.

The Speaker Introduced by James Whitcomb Riley-The Humorist Closes with a Poem to Riley.

Designs of 1897, splendid quality, twills Last night was another record breaker in the Y. M. C. A. lecture course at English's Opera House. Yesterday morning "standing room only" was all that could be given, and there were so many single tickets sold that a number who held season tickets could not be accommodated. Robert J. Burdette, the famous humorist, was the attraction, and when he walked on to the stage with James Whitcomb Riley there was vociferous applause, and then there were cries of "Riley." Mr. Rlley soon came forward and made the following

> It is a pleasant thing to know and feel that the good old world has always a warm welcome for the humorist, ever estimating him as an utterly light-hearted, happy man. Yet in face of this fixed opinion of the world at large some studious minds are persuaded to believe that the truest, gentlest humor is based far less upon the mirthful spirit than the heroic-that the true humorist is yet a truer hero. Many wholly honest, noncomplaining seekers after real facts, find that the serious conditions of our existence are assuredly in excess of the light and pleasureable, and that, therefore, it requires a heart of most heroic stuff to cheerily defy the gloomy odds. Thus it is that the chiefest honor and renown is accorded to the great humorist and prisoner of state, the author of Don Quixote-not so much honoring him for writing the finest book on earth as for writing it in jail, where it was as hard for him to be funny as it was to digest the kind of bread poked at him through his prison bars. And yet, as Mr. Nye would meekly observe. Cervantes did not murmur nor repine-great humorist though he was, he was a greater hero. So bravely blithe a spirit had he-so buoyantly irrepressible a soul-that moated dungeon wall nor iron gate, nor weight of clanking chains could "So, too, with other classic humorists ment. And some there were, alas, who had not even the advantage of a jall for shel-ter as they joked and nimbly capered all acold:—homeless, roofless, half-clad and famishing—heroically choking back the sobs and tears, they still went blithely toot-ling, like poor Goldsmith, from town to town, and in stout courage laughing, doubtless, at the very funny thing it was to find that they could make their fellow-mortals, high and low, all happier tha nthemselves. "But I must not misuse my offlie to-high and low, all happier than themselves. it bestows, nor longer embarrass a true humorist of our very own by detailed in-timations of his likeness to the glad-pathetc brave old humorists of the past. Even in thus stammeringly alluding to these virtues I am pitifully reminded of my limitaions as a speaker and of the brief story that fitly goes along with my deficiency: The simple story relates to an unfortunate man, possessed of a phenomenally bad stammer. There were times indeed when his attempts at oral expression were so painfully involved as to be almost chaotically incoherent. So, in stress of desperation, yearning for some partial cure or relief he at last took his unrivalled stammer and laid it before an eminent specialist-in fact, he frankly told him-with extemporaneous llustrations-just how bad his stammer seemed to be. At which the gnarled and seasoned old practitioner threw up his

"'Merciful powers!" he exclaimed, you stammer that way all the time?'
"'N-n-n-no,' said the brightening patient,
'N-n-n-not-all-the time. O-o-o-only when I talk."
"It is even so with the present incumbent, and so I cease all further effort, to present to you, instead, a gentleman whose speech will be found as cheery and uplifting as it is glib and lucent, and a speaker whose thought, likewise, has no impediment whatever. Our mutual friend and benefac-tor, Mr. Robert J. Burdette."

MR. BURDETTE'S FUN. Mr. Burdette looks just the same as he did years ago, when he made his first bow to Indianapolis and told them of "the rise and fall of the mustache" at Masonic Hall. His "text" last night was "The Medicine of a Merry Heart." "Humor is not natural," said he; "it is developed. A prosperous man has nothing to laugh at; it is the man that is in trouble who laughs." No one can say the ridiculous things in the slow, monotonous, drawling way that Mr. Burdette does, even if he can repeat the words. The short stories that made the "medicine" for those who needed and wanted to laugh were punctured with laughter and applause. There was a story of a stuttering man that tried to tell another of a great thing that he saw in his part of the country, where a hunter with a gun raised, with the shot fired and the smoke coming out of it, all were petrified and that the bird that was in mid air was petrified. When some one found fault with the story and said a petrified bird could in the air, he declared that the atmosphere was petrified. The audience howled over the story. "It is the nature of humor to laugh at misfortune," said the speaker, and then he told in his inmitable way of the troubles of housewith his nonsense. In closing he said: "To have a humorist come to Indianapolis is like carrying coals to Newcastle when you have a man here who combines humor and pathos," and then he recited the following lines: JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY. (Wethout ary apology.)

I got to thinkin' of him-as sometimes a Of the night he gave a lectur' to the folks An' we set up ontil daylight, as them lecterers sometimes do-A-talkin' of a hundred things that mightn't int'rest you; mind the things he rattled off that night in boyish glee, Recitations he recited to a audience of me; How I laughed ontil the lan'lord come an'

ast us to be still-got to thinkin' of him, an' that night at Shelbyville. Then he'd kind o' quit his nonsense an' we'd settle down a spell, Tell Jim 'ud turn upon me an' begin agin-"Dev' tell Bout the time I went to Franklin fer the Babtist College folks?" An' I'd stretch my mouth acrost my face, all ready for the jokes; But h'd branch off in a story 'bout the

"Merry Workers'" band, That 'nless you knowed the "Workers" you c'd hardly understand: c'd hear myself a swallerin', the room 'ud seem so still-So I got to thinkin' of him, an' that night at Shelbyville. got to thinkin' of him-like 'twas jest a year ago--Fer time, that flies so fast in dreams, in alminicks is slow; He was workin' like a beaver, lecturin' here an' lecturin' there, An' a writin' on the railroad cars, in tay-

Printin' poems in the papers, speakin' pieces at the fairs, An' him an' me a travelin', now an' then, An' he seemed to think 'at he was no account at all-but still.

erns-ever where,

in Shelbyville.

I got to thinkin' of him, an' that night at Shelbyville. got to thinkin' of him-an' the happy "Days gone by," the sweet "Old-fashioned Roses" seemed to bloom agin-and die;

An' I hear him talk agin about "My bride that is to be." When he'd come to "Grigsby station" jest to have a night weth me; I kin see him settin' down agin, to give the Prince a rock, When "The frost was on the pumpkin an' the corn was in the shock: An' I hear a laughin' voice I loved, with music in its trill-So I got to thinkin' of him, an' that night

So I set here an' I wonder ef I know jest what it means, When I see 'em print his poetry in all the An' I see him on the platform with the James and Howells set, An' hear the people sayin', "He's the best one of 'em yet;"
An' I keep a winkin' back the tears that

Fer he's jest the same old Riley, an' he'll be the same Jim still, At he was the night 'at him an' me set up at Shelbyville.

THE WORK OF ROWDIES.

They Decoy a Man from Home and Then Destroy His Furniture.

On Sunday evening a gang of young oughs living in the south part of the city went to the home of Nancy Taylor, a colored woman, living at No. 159 West Mc-Carty street, and proceeded to abuse the woman. She is known to have a reputation that is not the best, but she objected to the treatment she was receiving at the hands of the rowdies. She struck one of the men in the face and succeeded in driving them away. Yesterday evening the gang returned, and one of them pretended he had a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Taylor's husband. He succeded in getting the man to leave the house, and then the crowd started in to demolish the place. The police were notified, but before Captain Dawson the young men had disappeared. Last night Sergeant Scheigert and Patrolmen Smith and Hoffbauer arrested Thomas Blackwell, of South Capitol avenue, Thomas Noone, of No. 416 South Missouri street, and John Finley, of No. 162 Maple street, Blackwell is supposed to be the man whom Mrs. Tayyoung men claim they were at work, one at the saw works and the other at a bicycle They are charged with inciting a

WILL BE AT LEAST TWENTY-FIV BROUGHT IN BY LEGISLATORS.

Many Calls for Copies of the Suprem Court's Recent Decision on the Subject-An Old Story.

So far as heard from there are twentyfive members of the Legislature who expect | words to come to Indianapolis with legislative apportionment bills in their inside pockets. make them up along the lines laid down by Indiana was entirely abnormal, while if 1892 is taken as a basis it will be unsatisfactory from the fact that an access of population has changed the political complexion of a number of counties since that date. It would be almost impossible to figure out anything like a fair apportionment that would not show a big Republican majority on the basis of the election of 1896, for the Republicans carried the House and a majority of the senators elected this year, relieved her of the morphine, and she will operating under the most outrageously unfair Democratic gerrymander ever devised in Indiana-that of 1885.

There is no likelihood of very great changes in the congressional apportionment this year. The Republicans are fairly well satisfied with the rearrangement made two years ago, and the only change talked of is the possibility of cutting Johnson county off the Seventh district and tacking it upon the Sixth. The only reason it was put in the Seventh two years ago was to preserve the symmetry of the map. Marion lone has more than enough voters to constitute a separate congressional district and the Sixth district could stand Johnson county, both as to population and as to politics. The people of Johnson would rather be in another district, too. In conventions they are so absolutely at the mercy of Marion county that their demands can get no consideration, and what they get is by the sheer force of generosity on the part of the larger county.

OLD INCIDENT RECALLED.

The Legislative Scrimmage Between James Willard and J. W. Linck. "I'll take a pistol to that fellow next time A man never knows how much he needs a gun until the time comes and he has none about him." The speaker was James Willard, of Bedford, son of ex-Governor Willard, and his bloodthirsty remarks were brought out by the suggestion made to him last evening at the Denison that he ought to have come to the Legislature this year to have the pleasure of again meeting his old friend, John W. Linck, of Madity last month. This episode recalled one of the most celebrated incidents that ever occurred in the Indiana House of Representatives, which is no stranger to lively scrimthat Willard and Linck were both members of the House, and Willard had a disgusthim. A bit of political legislation was under discussion and Willard made a speech cleaning and putting up stove pipe, sub-jects in themselves that were anything but bers like pickpockets. They could stand humorous at the time. "A man used to this all right, but when he closed his tirade have toothache, then he had neuralgia, by moving the previous question, thus cutnow he has appendicitis, and even that is | ting off the possibility of reply, their indiggoing out of style," he said. For nearly nation reached the boiling point. Linck was two hours he kept the audience laughing on his feet in a moment, denouncing the act as that of a coward. Willard approached him and called him to account. The lie was passed and in another moment Linck, who is a man of powerful physique, had knocked Willard under a seat. Then was when the latter "wanted a gun." The Democrats held a caucus and as a result Linck was suspended and fined $150. He was reinstated, however, the following Monday and the fine remitted. There was much talk of a duel, but it did not ma-One of R. R. Shiel's "Nonbets." During a little discussion on the senatorial question yesterday afternoon at the Denison House R. R. Shiel offered to bet $500 against $250 that Mr. Fairbanks would not be elected senator. D. M. Ransdell took the bet on the spot, and while they were writing their checks Mr. Shiel changed his mind. He declared that his reason for declining to bet was that he did not want to start Mr. Ransdell to working for Fairbanks in order that he might win the bet. Fusion Test Case. The suit brought in Gibson county to test the legality of fusion between two political parties, made by committees representing those parties, has been brought to the Supreme Court. The lower court held that the fusion was illegal, and in order to get a decision the election board appealed the case. The facts have been submitted by agreement and the briefs will be filed within a short time. Canvassing the State Vote. The Governor and secretary of state yesterday afternoon began the work of canvassing the vote for State officers and members of Congress. The work was not completed yesterday, but will be finished

K. OF P. MEMBERSHIP.

Series of District Meetings Arranged to Bring in Delinquents.

Because of nonpayment of dues about 2.-100 Knights of Pythias were suspended in shown by the reports to be responsible for the decrease in members during the last year. District meetings have been held heretofore with considerable success in getting members to pay their dues and the order has been materially benefited. The same course will be tried again and meetings have been arranged for throughout the State as follows: Auburn, Feb. 9; Goodland, Feb. 11; Wabash, Feb, 10; Williamsport, Jan. 26; Frankfort, Feb. 12; Tipton, Feb. 13; Cambridge City, Dec. 17, 1896; Indianapolis, Dec. 16; Greencastle, Feb. 23, 1897; Bloomington, Feb. 24; Shelbyville, Dec. 18, 1896; Lawrenceburg, March 2, 1897; Seymour, Feb. 25; Salem, Feb. 26; Sullivan,

Jan. 27; Rockport, Jan. 28. Moats in Louisville.

H. H. Moats, who, it is alleged, was guilty of several crooked real-estate and building and loan association deals in this An' I keep a winkin' back the tears that make my fool eyes shine.

Fer I couldn't feel no prouder of he'd ben a boy of mine:

building and loan association deals in this last evening by entertaining about thirty friends at cards. Flowers and palms adorned the several rooms. The supper building and loan association man.

TWO EFFORTS AT SUICIDE

TAYLOR DOTY TAKES LAUDANUM AND MAY LACY MORPHINE.

Physicians Reached Both in Time to Save Them-Doty Out of Work and Despondent.

Taylor Doty, thirty-two years old, livng at 267 Massachusetts avenue, attempted suicide last evening by taking an ounce of laudanum and inhaling the fumes of chloroform. Dr. Castor was summoned and believes the man will recover.

Doty and his wife, a handsome young woman, came here from Cincinnati five weeks ago. They had a little money and Mrs. Doty started a confectionary shop at and several patrolmen reached the place | the above number. The husband is a paperhanger and he has sought in vain for employment. For a while he was at the New York store, but he never got a piece of work to do. The little shop kept by the wife was hardly profitable enough to make for struck Sunday night. The other two the living and soon what little money they had disappeared and despondency followed. factory, when the trouble occurred last Mrs. Doty said her husband was always of a cheerful disposition, but his health was never very good. It was on account of his health that they left Cincinnati, where he had plenty of work and was pros-

> Last night at 7 o'clock Mrs. Doty had occasion to call at a neighboring shop and she left her husband lying on a couch. He told her that if she intended staying long she would better close the front door. She returned in less than an hour and found her husband lying in the same position on the couch with a handkerchief saturated with chloroform at his nostrils. He had rolled a piece of paper into a cone and put this over the handkerchief, so as to retain all the fumes of the chloroform. Mrs. Doty ran at once for Dr. Castor and he arrived at 8 o'clock. On a piece of wallpaper lying on the table was written these

"Don't bother about me. I have taken one ounce of laudanum besides this." It was fortunate for Doty that he left the Copies of the decisions of the Supreme note, for without it the fact that he had Court are in great demand, and all those taken anything besides the chloroform who attained to loftiest merry-making figuring upon apportionments are trying to might have been overlooked. Dr. Castor under the inspiration of solitary confinetime relieved his stomach of its contents. the court. It will be difficult to figure ac- Opium in a liquid form dissolves into the curately upon the political complexion of system rapidly, but the physician believes an apportionment, for if the figures are amount of it being assimilated. At midmade upon the last election it must be re-mambered that the Republican majority in doctor believed he would recover.

MAY LACEY TRIES IT.

Takes Ten Cents' Worth of Morphine. but a Physician Restores Her.

Through the dark, stormy night, last night, about 8 o'clock, May Lacey, rooming at 1551/2 West Washington street started across the River Styx by the morphine route, but half way over was intercepted by Dr. Newman with a stomach pump. He yet remain on Washington street. For the last few weeks, according to the story of May's sister Anna, a young dental student named Fred has been devoting his attentions to May. He promised to take her to the theater last night, but failed to appear at the appointed hour, and May decided that, bereft of Fred and the pleasures of the theater, the world held no further charms for her and bought 10 cents worth of morphine and swallowed it in her room. She and her sister Anna and Hazel Williams occupy the room. Anna was absent at the time, but the Williams woman was lying ill on a sofa in the room. She saw May take the morphine and then fall back on the bed, and, rushing out, gave the alarm. May was pretty far gone when Dr Newman arrived, but after working with Ler for some time he succeeded in restoring her. The parents of the two girls live at Columbus, and they were very solicitous that the matter be kept quiet that their parents might not learn of it.

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY.

Mrs. William A. Pfaff is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Pfaff. Mrs. Morris, of London, England, is the guest of Mrs. R. B. F. Peirce. Mrs. John H. Sonntag has gone to Evansville to spend the holidays with relatives

Mrs. Harry E. Drew and guest, Mrs. George Brecount, will receive informally Miss Follansbee, of Chicago, who has been visiting friends here for a fortnight, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nell returned last evening from their wedding trip South, and are at home at the Chalfant. Mrs. Cerene T. Browning will be at home with Mrs. James L. Fugate, 203 North Pennsylvania street, after to-morrow. Rev. Mr. Parker, of Laporte, is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. C. Atkins. Mrs. Parker has been with Mrs. Atkins for two weeks. Mr. Lyon and Miss Lyon, of Washingtotn, D. C., are guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. A. J. Graham, and family, on Chris-

Mr. Frank Jelleff and Mr. Charles Roemler will head a party of young people who will give a dance at the Propylacum Fri-Mrs. Charles E. Dark will spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Brackebush, in Sioux City, Ia., owing to the death of Mr.

Brackebush. Mrs. V. Graham Brennan will receive today after 4 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Brennan this evening until 10, at their home, 240 North Capitol avenue. The Glee Club of the University of Indiana will give a concert at the Tabernacle Church, Dec. 23. Mr. C. Norman Hassler is director of the club. Miss Natalie Driggs will return to-day from Oxford College to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S.

Driggs, on North Illinois street. Mr. and Mrs. Moon, of Eau Claire, came yesterday to visit their mother, Mrs. Ellis, and sister, Mrs. George H. Chapman, at Mapleton Farm, for a few days. Miss Helen Spencer will return Friday from Syracuse, N. Y., where she is attend-ing school, to spend the holidays with her parents, on North Delaware street. Dr. N. G. Brier, of Fowler, is visiting his brother, E. C. Brier, on North East street. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brier will spend the holidays at Fowler with Dr. Brier and Mrs. Albert Raab has issued invitations for a company Friday afternoon, when Miss Mary Chomel will read several short stories. Mr. and Mrs. Raab entertain in

Mrs. George E. Townley will have an ex-hibit of Miss Rena Hill's water colors and also a sale of some of the articles remaining from the art booth of the Flower Mission fair, at her home, 358 Broadway, this afternoon.

Mrs. D. B. Brenneke will receive informally this afternoon for her sister, Mrs. Ringle, of Hutchinson, Kan., and this evening Mr. Brenneke and Mr. Ringle will receive with the ladies at No. 199 North Pennsylvania street. The Children's Chorus will give a concert at Tomlinson Hall Monday evening, Dec. 28. This concert is a miniature rival of the May Festival and is under the direction of Mr. Arens. A number of well-known ladies will be patronesses of the event. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. F. Peirce and guest, Mrs. H. L. Morris, of London, England, and Mr. and Mrs. John N. Carey and guest, Mrs. Lyons, of Saginaw, will return this evening from St. Louis, where they made a short visit in Mr. Peirce's private

A budget, edited by Mr. Charles Moores, will be read this evening at the Century

Club, Contributions are promised by Messrs. Bowles, Rabb, Gavisk, Fishback, Butler, Dunn and Holstein. A scheme of incorporation will be presented to the club at this meeting. The Parlor Club will meet to-morrow evening with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ingram, 345 Park avenue. The subject of the evening is Shakespeare's "King John." play, as a whole, will be considered by Judge Edgar A. Brown and the ethical movement of the play by Mr. William H. A special party of Mr. Burdette's friends occupied the stage box at the entertainment last night, the party including Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Holstein, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Blackledge, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Page and Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Hays. Mr. and Mrs. Holstein will give a luncheon to day in honor of Mr. Burdette. Mr. and Mrs. J. Kent Howard celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage propriate to the anniversary. Mrs. Howard was assisted by her sisters, Mrs. F. G. Brown and Miss Maud Elliott.

Miss Elizabeth Meany gave a dinner last evening in honor of Miss Anna Meurer and Miss Luella Clark, of St. Louis. Covers were laid for eight. The decorations were roses, chrysanthemums and smilax tastefully arranged, and the favors were good luck wishbones tied with ribbons. Pink was the prevailing color. FOR MR. AND MRS. MILLIKAN.

One of the brilliant parties of the holiday season was given last evening at the Propylaeum by Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bybee, for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Millikan, who are their guests. Mrs. Millikan was formerly Miss Mary Bybee. The entire building was thrown open for the entertainment. The guests, numbering about two hundred of the leading society people, were received in the assembly hall. With Mr. and Mrs. Bybee and Mr. and Mrs. Millikan were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pratt. Miss Jessie Bybee and her visitor, Miss Rita Robinson, of Louis-The hall was most attractive with its Christmas decorations of white and green. The floor was covered with white and from the arches above were suspended three points, and each was fastened to a large round bunch of white pampas plumes just over the heads of the dancers. The arches were covered with Southern smilax and the mantel at one end of the room and the platform at the other, were decorated with palms and ferns, while the broad stairs leading to the platform were cov-ered with white and bordered with palms. The orchestra occupied one end of the stage and played for a varied programme of dances. The host and hostess were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Hord, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Voorhees Brown,
Miss Emma Atkins, Miss Maria Fletcher
and Miss Mary E. Colgan. Mr. Newton Booth Tarkington, Mr. John Wallick and
Mr. Horace Hord assisted with the danc-

At 11 o'clock all of the guests went to the east and west parlors, where supper was served to all at the same time. The company was seated at small tables in groups of four and each table was adorned with a basket of flowers for the center. There were numerous handsome gowns worn in the hall, at the dance or in the parlors for the supper the gay colors were very effective. The party was one of the notable events at the Propylaeum this season.

HIDE THIEVES CAUGHT.

Arrested After Bargaining for the Sale of Their Plunder.

George Davis, of No. 42 Smith street, and Oscar Williams (colored), living at the rear of No. 42 Pratt street, charged with stealing hides from the slaughter house of Henley & Horton, of Westfield, Hamilton county, were arrested by Chief Massing, of the West Indianapolis police force, on Belmont avenue yesterday afternoon about 12 o'clock. The accused drove up to Gray's tannery on Belmont avenue yesterday morning and sold the firm five hides, but refused a check in payment for them on the grounds that they would be unable to get any one to identify them at the bank. Not having the cash on hand, Mr. Gray came to the city and cashed the check and as he returned stopped at Joseph Allerdic & Co.'s bide store on Kentucky avenue. While he was there a telephone message from Westfield notified Mr. Allerdice of a theft of hides at that place. Mr. Gray sus-pected that the hides he had bargained for were the ones stolen, although the descrip tion sent in stated that the thieves left in a buggy drawn by one gray horse, while the men he had bought the hides of drove two gray horses. He notified Chief Massing of his suspicion and with him drove to the tannery where the men were waiting for the money. Massing placed the two under arrest after chasing Davis about four blocks. Word was sent to Westfield and last evening Messrs. Hanley & Horton came to the suburb and identified their hides, which are valued at $14.94. They returned home again last night to swear out warrants for the culprits and officers are expected from Hamilton county this morning to take them back to Westfield. Davis gave the officers all the information they sought and it is believed that when the case comes to trial he will turn State's evidence. Anna Shotz, who was also in the suburb jail, charged with being drunk made life miserable for the two hide thieves last night by unearthly howls and amantations over her confinement.

THE WORK OF GHOULS.

Body of Christian Trendelman Stolen from East of the City.

Yesterday afternon Undertaker Wiese called at the police station and complained that a body had been stolen from the cemetery east of the city, on Tenth street (old Clifford avenue.) He was accompanied by Christian Kellemeyer, who secured a warrant for searching the medical colleges and with this instrument in their hands the police last night visited all the col-leges, but did not find the body for which they were looking. The lost body is that of Christian Trendelman. It was buried on Wednesday, Dec. 2. On Sunday relatives went to visit the grave and found it had been opened. The robbers took the clothing off the body and left it in the coffin. They did not take the trouble to fill up the grav Stendily Growing. The demand for our popular family brews, "Columbia" and "Extract of Malt, is constantly increasing. They are already the undisputed favorites in many house holds. Bottled by their maker, the Home Brewing Company. Telephone 1050.

The New Toes in Shoes, ts', at C. FRIEDGEN.

19 North Pennsylvania street. Insure with German Fire Insurance of Indiana. General offices, 29 South Delaware street. Fire, tornado and explosion.

Forty years in the market, still booming with greater sales than ever. Cook's Imperial Extra Dry Champagne. Feed your horse JANES'S Dustless Oats McGilliard Agency Co. Fire Insurance.

Insure your home in the Glens Falls. Crown and Bridge Work Is our specialty. Moderate prices rule at Green's Dental Rooms, corner Ohio and Illinois streets-

Stewart block. No house in the city can show you so large a stock to select from as Gunther, the Umbrella and Cane Man, in Arcade.

Holiday goods in Furniture at Iske Bros., 105 East Washington street. Opposite courthouse. Music boxes to play 1,000 tunes. Cheap; at Wulschner's, also Mandolins and guitars. Ivory, Horn, Bone and Fancy Wood Umbrella and Cane Sets, at Gunther's, Arcade, Iske Bros. for fine Furniture. 105 East Washington street. Opposite courthouse.

Music Boxes. Carlin & Lennox, 31 E. Market.

Music Boxes the cheapest at Wulschner's.

CARF PIN

Tuesday, Dec. 15 Your choice of any 75-cent SCARF

- Commencing -

PIN in our store FOR 25 cts

Nothing Reserved.

Names engraved on all Jewelry purchased of us free of charge OPEN EVENINGS.

Gardner Bros. & Ross Manufacturers and Retailers.

New Goods

Arriving Daily.

LAMPS and GLOBES,

Umbrellas, Novelties.

Dresden Handle Umbrellas at Bottom Prices. Crystal Clocks, enameled and jeweled. Fine Bronze and Marble Busts, Fine Vases. See our line of Jeweled Boxes, Bottles, Hat Pins, Hair Pins and Vinaigrettes. Our line of

DIAMOND

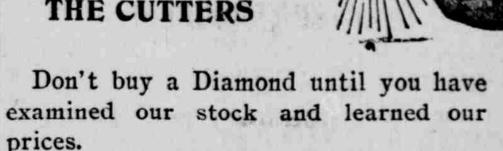

Covers 200 different patterns, and our assortment of Pins and Brooches

Compare prices and you will buy your fine goods of us.

ulius C. Walks Son,

Indiana's Leading Jewelers. Mail Orders Filled Promptly. Store Open Every Night.

DIRECT FROM THE CUTTERS

We Will Save You One Profit

As we have stepped over the wholesale men and will put you in touch with the producer.

J. C. SIPE, Importer Diamonds, Room 4, 181/2 North Meridian Street.

Examine Our

FINE ORNAMENTS

Choice Prices in Doulton, Minton, Cauldon, Dresden, Vienna and Capodi Monte.

RICH CUT GLASS, Lamps and Globes. The celebrated Fitzmanns Glass, in unique shapes and odd colors.

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING.

CHARLES MAYER & CO.,

29 and 31 West Washington St.

GREAT BARGAINS IN FURS

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS. We have the largest stock of JACKETS, CAPES, COLLARETTES, SCARFS, and MUFFS in the city. Don't buy before getting our prices. Special Garments made to order in four days if necessary. Garments Remodeled in One Week. INTERNATIONAL FUR CO.,

Only Exclusive Fur House in the State.

Lump and Crushed, FOR SALE BY

The Indianapolis Gas Co Do You Intend To Buy a Stove

For tickets, call at office-No. 49 South Pennsylvania St.

Half-Price Bible Sale

THE ALLISON-ENOS CO.,

92 North Meridian Street,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

BOOKSELLERS, 6 East Washington Street. - Indianapolis.

25 West Washington Street.

CHRISTMAS

See our display of Christmas Books, Calendars, Bibles, Albums, etc. Prices

CATHCART, CLELAND & CO.,

always the lowest.

Open every night till Xmas.

If so, it will pay you to look at the "JEWELS." They are "right."

LILLY & STALNAKER, 64 East Wash. St. For Xmas Gifts

Watches, Rings, Pins, and Novelties in Silverware . . - SEE -

F. C. MEDEARIS,

11 North Pennsylvania Street. HOLIDAY SALE

From this time on until Christmas we will offer an unprecedented opportunity to purchase useful and appropriate Christmas Gifts, in fancy and staple pieces of Furniture.

Our Stock is Large and Complete. The Patterns are the Latest, The Prices are the Lowest.

Selections made now will be delivered when wanted.

WM. L. ELDER, Nos. 43 and 45 South

THE TOBACCO USED IN THIS CIGAR IS THE FEST WE CAN BUY IN CUBA

The Mercantile is equal to any that are imported. See that the word MERCANTILE is stamped on each cigar. F. R. RICE MERCANTILE CIGAR CO., St. Louis.